2. Mission/Vision State of the public authority	Teaching, research and tertiary care medical institution.
3. Brief history of the public authority and context of its formation.	The Agra Medical School was one of the first three Medical Schools of our country. It was in the year 1854 that the Institution was started for the benefit of military personnel. The founder of School was Lt. Governor Sir James Thomson and the medical school was founder named after him. The purpose of the school was to mainly produce medical assistants, training the doctors of Indian Army and to look after the health of Military personnel. From 1872 onwards, civilian students were admitted to the LMP course which was later changed to LSMF by the U.P. State Medical Faculty. The first Principal of the School was Surgeon John Murray (1854-58). In 1883 a separate section for the training of lady students was established at the Lady Lyall Dufferin Hospital and the first batch of four female students was admitted. This arrangement was abolished in 1942 when it was amalgamated with the Medical College. With a view to meet the growing demands of qualified doctors in the state the status of Agra Medical School was upgraded in the year 1939 to that of a full fledged Medical College for the award of MBBS degree. The medical college was affiliated to the Agra University (Dr. B.R. Ambedkar University). In 1947, the Medical College was named as Sarojini Naidu Medical College after the name of first Lady Governor of U.P. Smt. Sarojini Naidu. The name of Thomson Hospital was changed to Sarojini Naidu Hospital after attainment of Independence in August 1947.
